Information for the authors

We would like to inform you that the reference (primary) version of the Scientific Papers of the Jan Długosz University in Czestochowa, the “Pragmata Tes Oikonomias”, is the paper version.

The authors sending in their papers for publication should adapt them to the editorial requirements of Wydawnictwo Akademii im. Jana Długosza in Czestochowa.

The reviewing procedure of “Pragmata Tes Oikonomias” is in compliance with the latest guidelines of the MS&HE (December 2011)

The Editors of the annual implemented the, so called, ghostwriting and ghost authorship barrier. Following preliminary qualification of the paper for publication by topical editors, the paper is assigned an ID code that is obligatory in the reviewing process. The reviewers do not know the names of the authors of papers they review (see the List of Reviewers). The reviewers also remain unknown to the authors (the double-blind review process).

In the case of a paper prepared by a number of authors, they are obliged to reveal the contributions made by other co-authors in the process of a given monograph (including information about who is the author of the concept, methods, research tools and the actual researcher).

The main responsibility rests on the author registering the manuscript. Symptoms of scientific unreliability will be exposed including notification of appropriate institutions (employers, scientific associations, scientific publishing houses, etc.).

The author is obliged to provide information about the source of financing of their research, if the paper submitted to the “Pragmata Tes Oikonomias” was written as a result of an obtained grant or other form of financing science.

We would like to inform you that work on each consecutive volume is begun in October of each consecutive year. Editorial work is completed in December, when the publication appears in print.
