the thesauros at Syene, Apollonios cf. N<sup>o</sup> 1—4 and 11—15. He also sent a notification of shipment to the central sitologos and trapezites of the Thebais, Lysimachos cf. N<sup>o</sup> 5—8 and 16—21. On some occasions the consignee was represented at the unloading of a ship by a sort of harbour master, Paniskos. In these cases the latter had to report to the consignee (cf. N<sup>o</sup> 1 v. 8—9; cf. also comm. N<sup>o</sup> 4 v. 21—23, introd. N<sup>o</sup> 9 and comm. N<sup>o</sup> 27) and also — at least in some cases — to the central accountancy office (cf. N<sup>o</sup> 4 v. 17—19). In case of shipwreck and transshipment a report was sent to the consignee of the cargo, Apollonios, to enable him to give the necessary instructions to the oikonomos and the harbour master (cf. N<sup>o</sup> 10).

Marie Thérèse Lenger, Contribution à un Corpus de la Legislation Ptolémaïque (Réédition commentée de P. Petr. III, 20 recto col. 4 — verso = W. Chr. 250) (Chronique d'Égypte N<sup>o</sup> 53, p. 218—246).

In her new edition of Petr. III, 20 recto col. 4 verso Miss Lenger has emended several passages by reconstructing the missing words. The text edited by her differs in a few details from that of Wilcken. Miss Lenger's article, besides a commentary, includes six ordinances annexed to particular pieces of a law-suit which was heard in the second year of the reign of Ptolemy Euergetes I on the charge of an illegal occupation of a stathmos. Here are also discussed such data as the dates of issue, specified provisions and sanction.

Zaki Aly, A Propos of a Greek Inscription from Hermopolis Magna (Annual of the British School in Athens 46, (1951) pp. 219/231).

The author publishes a fragment of a Ptolemaic stele discovered at the German excavations of Ashmounein and now preserved in the Museum of the Farouk I University in Alexandria.

In fact, this document has been already known. Zucker had published it in his „Nachträge zur Doppelschrift aus spätptolemäischer Zeit aus der Garnison von Hermopolis Magna (Abh. Preuss. Akad. d. Wiss. 1937 phil-hist. Kl. N<sup>o</sup> 6, 1938). He ascertained that this fragment of the stele belonged to an inscription dated January 25, 78 B. C. and found in 1932, in Hermopolis Magna, by German excavators.
