Having however demonstrated this as impossible the author restricts himself to determinate — on the base of the elements at our disposal the nature of the work from which the Greek original was taken and thinks that this was a scholastic manual composed of texts of classical jurists and of imperial constitutions.

H. Klos, Die publizierten lateinischen Fragmente der Papyrusammlung der österreichischen Nationalbibliothek (Chronique d'Egypte No. 56 [1953] 263—384).

In this publication-catalogue of the Latin papyri preceded by a catalogue of the published Greek papyri from the papyrus-collection of the Austrian National Library are for a jurist particularly valuable the indexes, especially pp. 379—80 where all the respective papyri are assembled under the catch-words such as Egypt, Jurisprudence, Documents, Guardianship etc.
