EDITOR'S PREFACE

The current issue of the Journal contains more than 100% of texts than usual. Almost all the authors are new - they have not published in the Journal before. Some of them are totally new in the world of science - they have not published abroad. Up to last year we restricted the amount of accepted texts to 12 but in this year we decided to allow a debut for more authors.

This year our Journal has been accepted for indexing in a few European scientific databases: Polish Baz Hum, German Central and Eastern European Online Library and American EBSCO. It means that our hard work is observed and noticed in the wider international scientific environment. This is a huge success, practicable thanks to the hard work of the scientific committee and editorial board of the periodical, supported by the reviewers, translators and language advisors and of course the authors, who were strong enough to face the problem of very tough reviews and to write beautiful articles. We appreciate your hard work and are very grateful.
