This is a continuation of the publication in Etudes III, 1ff. of the texts originating from the archives of Aurelios Isidoros in Karanis, now in the Cairo Museum. N° 21-22 are petitions, N° 23 a report of collections of chaff, N° 24-27, 29, 30 receipts, N° 28 a loan.

In the petition N° 21 (296 A.D.) to a deputy of the corrector a rule is quoted according to which dowries, recorded in written agreements, in order to be valid are to be evaluated by a goldsmith and a tailor. The papyrus mentions further a δάνειον secured by the means of ὑπάλλαγμα. It refers also to private arbitrators and stresses the importance of the written proof generally. N° 22 (undated) is a hereditatis petitio directed to the strategos for the restoration of movable property which the defendant seized after the death of the plaintiff's father. The plaintiff's state that they have already approached the prostates of the village in this matter and that he has ordered the defendant to surrender to them the property in question, a command which he has so far ignored. N° 28 (309 A.D.) is a contract of delivery, N° 29 (312 A.D.) a receipt for the repayment of a loan under a verbal agreement. The original loan was made by the agent of the lender as his indirect representative. The lender issues the receipt with the approval of his agent. N° 24, and 25 (309 A.D.) are receipts issued by two ἀποδέκται πιστικίων ἢ πισσικίων to the sitologoi of Karanis. The term itself is a novum. N° 27 (304 A.D.) refers to a colonia partiaria with the husband as his wife's direct representative.

E. R. HARDY, A fragment of the works of the Abbot Isaias. Col. P. Inv. N° 553. Université libre de Bruxelles. Annuaire de l' Institut de philologie et d' histoire orientales et slaves VII (1939-1944), p. 127-140. The verso of this papyrus contains the conclusion of a deed of sale of land of the sixth cent. For some remarks on this document cf. Berger, supra p. 33-40.
