In No. 191, a draft of a letter (III cent. B.C.) is referred to the execution of a mandate. The same holds good for a private letter No. 192 (III cent. B.C.) which is designated as an ἐντόλιον (ἐντολή). Noteworthy is that in these papyri the term πρόστιμον has the meaning of an "additional amount".

E. Kiessling, Sammelbuch griechischer Urkunden aus Aegypten (vol. V, part IV, 1955).

Vol. V of the Sammelbuch comprises four parts; the first two appeared in the years 1934 and 1938 and the third one in the year 1950. Part IV published now contains the index to the whole volume V. To the last part of this volume is annexed an additional special volume containing a new edition of the Papyrus Revenue Law by J. Bingen. Besides the word-indices and general list of words, particularly valuable is the section III (p. 400) with the contents of the documents. It comprises: A. Government activities, State and municipal legislation, Jurisdiction, Administration, Taxation, Public dedications, B. Law of Associations, C. Civil Law (Law of Persons, Law of Property, Law of Obligations, Circulation).

M. T. Lenger, Le fragment de loi ptolémaïque P. Petrie III 26 (Bodl. Ms. Gr. Class. D 27 [P]) (estr. dagli Studi in on. di U.E. Paoli [1955] 460—467).

The article contains a re-edition of Petr. III 26 with a commentary. The papyrus refers as we know to the responsibility of the proprietor of a beast for damage done by the latter.

M. Th. Lenger, Une nouvelle édition de P. Petrie III 20, Recto coll. 1—3 (Chronique d'Égypte 57 [1954] 124—136).

The columns 1,2 and 3 of the recto of P. Petrie III, 20 bring respectively, an enteuxis to the king concerning the usurpation of a stathmos, a hypomnema to the chrematists submitted by the same plaintiff and a record referring to the continuation of the proceedings and to the sentence passed in the case.
