A LETTER FROM THE EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Dear Readers,

I kindly invite you to read the 7th and latest issue of Uniwersyteckie Czasopismo Socjologiczne/Academic Journal of Sociology, which for the first time since its publication arrives in a new format. So far, the journal has initiated cooperation with scientists from universities in Denmark, the UK and the Russian Academy of Science. Due to these exciting developments, the articles will now be published in both Polish and English. Issue no. 8 is specially released to celebrate the 10th anniversary of the Faculty of History and Social Sciences, and will include articles only in English. I dearly hope this will allow for further enlargement of our circle of associates and readers.

The structure of the journal has been changed through the introduction of a new section called “Research Workshop”, in which we will publish empirical research reports, including those as conducted for the purpose of social, organizational, didactic and political praxis. I think that this may be a good opportunity to establish direct contact with communities constituting the social environment of the academic science.

The new editorial restructuring has been accompanied by a change in operational management of the journal. The responsibility for the smooth running of the work was assigned to the Editorial Team. The Academic Board and the Editorial Board have been extended to include our foreign associates.

I hope that the new format of the Academic Journal of Sociology will meet with your interest and approval.

Kind regards,
Paweł Ruszkowski
Editor-in-Chief
